The United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea is one of the most important constitutive instruments in international law Not only does this treaty regulate the uses of the world's largest resource but it also contains a mandatory dispute settlement system an unusual phenomenon in international law. This book addresses current developments concerning the interpretation of the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea UNCLOS on the part of international courts and tribunals It does so from different perspectives by focusing on the jurisprudence of international and regional bodies such as the International Court of Justice ICJ the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea. Angela Del Vecchio and Roberto Virzo eds Interpretations of the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea by International Courts and Tribunals The second paper deals with the general rule of interpretation in international jurisprudence relating to the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea UNCLOS. The United States has signed the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child UNCRC but is the only United Nations member state that is not a party to it The UNCRC aims to protect and promote the rights of all children around the world It was the first international treaty to integrate all human rights in reference to children allowing them to participate in family cultural and social.
